

What activities can be funded?

Grant funds are not intended to finance projects in full.

Some examples of how the grant funds can be used are:

- product development – prototype development, product testing, engineering design work, website or app development
- commercialisation services – business, financial, marketing or legal advice
- intellectual property protection.

The grant will not fund activities retrospectively, nor support business-as-usual costs for established products and services.